Rev. Ron Foster: "Framing Holiness: Photography as a Way of Prayer"

Join us as our Pastor Ron shares his passion for photography. In his own words: "Over the last fifteen years or so, I have gradually discovered myself praying more and more through my camera. Sometimes the prayers happen alongside the act of my pushing the shutter but more often, they are inextricably bound up in the whole experience of making pictures: the framing, the seeing, the light-sensing, the waiting, the stillness, the breathing, the quiet, the paying attention. For me, photography has morphed from being simply an enjoyable hobby into a kind of spiritual practice every bit as much as preaching a sermon, visiting the sick or reading scripture. I'll share a few of my favorite images and some connections I have found between praying and making photographs."
