Thresholds All Around

It feels like everywhere I turn lately at church, I'm tripping over another threshold. Two weeks ago, I had the privilege of attending the annual UMYF Banquet which is a bittersweet night full of much laughter and a few tears, saying goodbye to graduating seniors and remembering highlights from the year just past. The next two nights, I had the joy of watching the closing program for our Nursery School morning and afternoon 4-year old classes as these adorable children marched, pledged and sang their way into their parents' hearts...
